Richard L. Smith

Richard started his career at the Muny 40 years ago. He has played every season but one since that time. Primarily a bassoonist, he also plays all of the lower woodwind instruments.

In the early years at the Muny, he also served as the Music Librarian making sure all music was prepared and ready to go for rehearsals and productions, and he was also responsible for returning music to New York after each production.

He was the "first" person to ever play the Pedal Steel Guitar in "The Pit" at the Muny.
